Nexio Overview Brochure

Driving the digital revolution

We live in an era where technology is developing at breakneck speed.

Previously something that was only seen in science fiction movies, intelligent tools such as big data analytics, artificial intelligence, robotics, and sensors are a reality today, coalescing into systems that appear to be nearly autonomous.

Gearing for growth: Digital platform

The Nexio digital platform enables your transformation journey by providing the foundation for digital-led business change that can improve operations and customer experiences.

Offering complete visibility into every technology, system and process employed by the business, the Nexio digital platform can link disparate systems to provide an integrated foundation for the future.

But visibility in the digital transformation journey is not enough. Organisations also need the capabilities to improve functionality in their IT ecosystem and thereby the overall manageability of their digital transformation journey.

By simplifying and transforming infrastructure, software and applications, the platform can provide a catalyst for new business value creation. The Nexio digital platform provides end-to-end visibility, control, manageability and functionality across the organisation's entire IT ecosystem, helping to identify and manage areas where you can gain a competitive advantage.

The Nexio platform is available as a service, enabling digital enterprise management functions based on consumption. It can be implemented in any organisation, across multiple departments, systems, processes and technologies, and can be deployed on premise or in the cloud.

In general, the more complicated the environment, the more beneficial the platform will be for an organisation.

Securing the future

The focus of digital transformation in most organisations has been on speed, automation, optimisation and innovation. Companies must also focus on cybersecurity.

Nexio unites unique combinations of technology to address all the key components needed to establish cybersecurity resilience, namely identification, protection, detection, response and recovery, testing and situational awareness.

A key part of Nexio's technology deployments is that we also consider key business needs, as well as applicable governance, risk, compliance, people and process requirements.

We optimise security operations to work in a real-time environment, and beyond the traditional security perimeter. Our capability includes pulling cyber response teams together when required and to do end-to-end incident management.

We embrace threat intelligence from varying perspectives to deliver an even fuller view of the cyber-threat environment for our customers.

We liaise with the appropriate departments and teams within your business to deliver a cohesive and fully integrated solution or service. It starts with an evaluation of what is already in your environment, making sure you get the most out of your existing investments. Our consultative approach ensures that all your security initiatives always tie into what the business needs, and what it is currently doing.

We offer a single port of call for all your security needs. Where possible, we consolidate your security according to your organisation's specific requirements. We also ensure that by meeting governance, risk and compliance requirements, this becomes an opportunity to grow the business, rather than just an additional cost.

The big data advantage

As more companies seek out digital transformation projects, big data offers an opportunity to gain a competitive edge – if leveraged correctly.

By itself, data has no value. Value is created when data is used by someone in context. That context requires looking at the bigger picture. Analytics is ultimately the final tool that companies can access in order to gain insights from their data. However, managing information as an asset needs a 360-degree view.

Nexio provides a complete solution that ensures companies get value from their data.

From data creation, to security, to data management; we provide the expertise and tools that allows analytics to provide the detailed insights that a modern company needs to stay ahead of its competitors.

Choosing the right technology platform has become essential to meeting the compute demands of today.

Nexio enables companies to modernise their data centre environments, providing next generation solutions developed specifically for each customer's requirements. Including consolidation, virtualisation, data analytics and security, backed up by our professional services capabilities, we offer an end-to-end data centre solution.

The right tools for the job

Nexio will help you develop an effective cloud strategy, aligned to your business strategy, ensuring that your technology investments continually meet your business goals.

Offering complete migration and implementation services, we enable you to modernise your environment and optimise your ecosystem.

Nexio will help you establish how your infrastructure and services can best be optimised at every step. Leveraging an extensive skills base and relationships with leading cloud vendors, we assist you to implement the right cloud for your business.

Our solution covers everything from assessments to comprehensive management and control – and everything in between.

With years of expertise in infrastructure, software, platforms, services and security, Nexio helps connect your IT ecosystem with the rest of the business. This ensures you gain the immense benefits and potential of cloud. Offering a solution that can truly transform the entire organisation, we will help you leverage it for growth and business agility.

Whether you require a private, public, or hybrid environment, you can be assured of accessing all the right tools and the competences to ensure that you get the most out of your cloud investment.

It's a multi-cloud world

It's practically impossible to deliver best-in-class IT solutions across the enterprise without a multi-cloud strategy.

In order to gain the breadth and depth of services that modern businesses need to deliver effectively to customers, they have to work across multiple cloud and on-premises infrastructures.

Getting the strategy right in terms of design and operations is therefore critical.

With visibility into the multi-cloud ecosystem, modernised and optimised environments are easy to achieve. Management is also essential to achieving these goals.

This is why we have developed a comprehensive management tool that frees you up to focus on the business, not the operations, and proactively move your organisation forward using digital technology to stay ahead of your competitors.

Integrating all of your cloud environments into our digital platform simplifies management, control and provisioning within a multi-cloud ecosystem.

Providing a one-stop solution that will turn your multi-cloud chaos into a single gateway to competitive operations, the digital platform incorporates a variety of tools to ensure the visibility necessary to effectively forecast and control cloud and workload costs.

Seamless connectivity

Advanced networking is the unsung hero of our digital future. It offers connectivity that can drive the development of new solutions and services while transforming inefficient operating models.

Where networking traditionally lived in the shadow of high-profile disruptive technologies, it is now transforming enterprise architecture. In fact, advanced connectivity is fast becoming a linchpin of digital business.

Advanced connectivity raises the bar on network flexibility, making it possible to configure networks to fit different types of performance and availability requirements.

Our connectivity solutions include a range of network collaboration offerings that enable secure cloud services, advanced networking, collaboration and transformation.

Making your business work for your people: Workforce transformation

True digital transformation is about more than just technology. It's about changing behaviour. Success in digital transformation rests on workforce transformation.

The workforce plays a huge role in ensuring that a company executes on any new initiative with speed, efficiency and excellence. Nexio provides a solution that combines technology and change management, providing agility, flexibility and improved security to both workers and the business. Nexio also ensures that your organisation always has access to the latest devices and technologies, allowing you to innovate faster. This also provides cost savings while enabling the business to benefit from faster refresh cycles on the hardware.

With Nexio, every employee is empowered to be more productive, to work and collaborate anywhere, at any time, on any device. Our solution includes communication solutions that provide an intuitive experience across digital channels and devices. This drives more efficient and responsive operations and improves workforce productivity and mobility. We help you tap into and connect the shared intelligence of the workforce while empowering decision-making at all levels of the organisation.

Putting it all together: Managed services

The world of technology in a business environment goes way beyond servers and workstations, and is now drowning in a flood of mobile devices and personal applications that today's workers deem essential.

In-house services are often limited in terms of resources and budget - spreading themselves too thin to adequately meet target service levels, or deliver the top-notch service demanded by today's customers. Managed services fill these gaps.

Nexio gives your businesses access to a pool of services, technologies and skills that will improve the security and stability of your technical environments – without breaking the bank.

Offering immediate access to the latest and greatest technologies, our unique approach allows us to provide managed services for a single aspect of your operations, or as an end-to-end solution, or anything in between. Our managed services offering ensures many benefits over and above increased service levels: Efficiencies are boosted and costs lowered - a major driver for all businesses in these highly competitive times.

We also open the door to new possibilities and the adoption of new models and technologies, which are often too costly to have in-house. Combining world leading technologies with our skills, expertise and investment into building long-term relationships with our customers, we ensure you achieve your business, strategic and operational goals.

We are trusted and backed by leading, world renowned partners such as:
